

Retainer-Based Staff Advisory and Mentoring— (R-SAM[®])

IMPROVE YOUR ODDS OF SUCCESS—WITH GROUP ATLANTIC

Do you sometimes need an experienced, knowledgeable person to help you quickly set direction, get over the rough spots or provide credible data points that you may not be aware of to help you explore opportunities and strategy—how to achieve substantial and sustainable competitive advantage?

Do you sometimes wish you could call someone who, when they pick up the phone, already knows your business, your program, your problems and opportunities; and then helps you rather than sells to you? Someone who you can speak frankly with—and is on your side? Someone who will transfer useful knowledge to your staff in a timely manner—and fills your capability gaps as they arise?

We understand the politics, the pressure, the business ramifications and the tradeoffs within a complex, dynamic enterprise—as well as the rapidly changing technology, techniques and more. We're aware of the traps and trepidations that await—and how to overcome them.

We can be as visible as you choose us to be—within the project team, with the user community—or we can quietly offer practical advice as a personal service to a Vice President, Director or Project Manager. When you know you need more than training. When you know you must choose experience and expertise you can trust, choose Group Atlantic.

Group Atlantic offers a powerful consulting model that our clients large and small have relied on over the years, with high degrees of success, as measured by their own perception of our services. Senior Executives of leading companies—from A.C. Nielsen to Walgreens, have relied on Group Atlantic.

INSPIRATION

"...You and Bob really understand human and business psychology. It is amazing how many folks do not "walk the talk—it is very easy to fall into the trap of focusing on current issues (challenges, problems, etc.) instead of taking a long term view of building people and the business. Thank you for sharing your thoughts with me. You were a good source of knowledge and inspiration."

~ COO, Walgreens, Inc.

GROWTH & VALUE

"Group Atlantic has worked with QuesTek to improve their project management practices, allowing them to retain the flexibility of a small organization and yet integrate within the project management structure of much larger corporations and the federal government. These new capabilities had aided QuesTek's growth and become a large part of our perceived value with our clients".

~President, QuesTek

Leaders with lasting impact understand the importance of developing the next generation of leaders.

Young leaders know the value of finding an experienced someone to show them the ropes.
